Eighteen New ASB Officers Elected; 1530 Student Body Members Go To Polls

After a week of hectic campaigning and voting the election fever on campus has cooled down, and the names of the 18 new ASB officers are being announced by Bob Becker, Student Court chief justice.

Approximately 1530 members of the Student body voted in the election, Becker also reported.

In the race for the office of Freshman President, Ernie Castro won over his three opponents. Gene Bui was elected vice-president; Masako Kawauchi, secretary and Diana Stelling, treasurer.

Cindy Klink now holds the office of Freshman Representative to the Student Council for one half year. Elections for the full year Freshman Representative will be held again, because the name of one of the candidates was left off the ballot.

Ted Terzakis, who ran unopposed, was elected Sophomore Class President. Roberta Evans who won the office of Sophomore vice-president and Bonnie Soe is the new secretary. The office of Sophomore Treasurer will be appointed by the new class council.

Sophomore Female Justice to the Student Court is Didi Smith, and Male Justice is Milt Von Damm.

Joe Clark was elected Junior Class President; Ray Cogo, vice-president; Elizabeth Heath, secretary and June Geddes, treasurer.

White ballot candidate Don Abinante now holds the office of Senior Class President. Bob Bush, also running unopposed, is vice-president; Carol Lucas, secretary and Joanne Leisi, treasurer.

FTE Enrollment Hits 8520; Ask 9200 FTE in Next Budget

SJS enrollment continued to be big news late last week, with 8520 full time equivalent student on campus and a 1956-57 budget for 9200 FTE on its way to Sacramento.

The 8520 figure meets the expectations of the administration, who predicted an FTE of 8510 for this year, according to Dr. John T. Wahlquist, college president.

Students appear to be taking heavier courses this year than in the past, Dr. Wahlquist said. Another factor in the large enrollment is that more students are in certain courses such as English, than heretofore.

Prediction of the 8510 FTE (full time equivalent is based on the unit load each student carries) was made on the number of high school students and transfers who previously had entered SJS. Other state college have more students than predicted, Dr. Wahlquist said. "We are the only state college in the state that has an adequate faculty. Now that we have the students we will utilize all the faculty."

Next academic year's budget request is based on 9200 FTE expected students. The budget will go before the State Division of Finance Nov. 10. Chances for its approval are greatly strengthened by the fact that we achieved our predicted FTE this year, Dr. Wahlquist said.

Seniors To Make Plans For Graduation Activities

Appointments and election of committees for Senior Week activities will start the Senior Class council planning for commencement this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in SD 126.

All seniors are invited and urged to come to the meeting because the committees which will be formed are very important and all help will be greatly appreciated.

The groups slated to be chosen are the Senior Ball, the Senior Banquet, and the commencement announcement committees.

RESULTS OF DANCE

Results of the after-game dance will be one of the main features to be discussed at today's class meeting, according to Larry Conterno, junior class president. Also on the agenda will be further discussion on the plans for the Jr. Prom, which includes band prospects and site locations. Plans for the Betty Co-ed Contest will be started also today, according to Conterno.

Conterno will be presiding over the council for the last time this afternoon. He will turn his office over to the new class president at the end of the meeting. The meeting will be held in Room 24 at 3:30 p.m.

FROSH-SOPH MIXER

The Sophomore Class will meet again this afternoon in Room 117 at 3:30 p.m. for its fifth class meeting of the fall semester.

On the agenda for the meeting are Frosh-Soph Mixer plans and details concerning the Georgious Gams Contest. It is still not too late for sophomores to sign up for many of the committees.

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE

Plans for the freshman Sadie Hawkins "Penny An Inch" dance to be held Dec. 2, in the Women's Gym, will be discussed today at the Freshman Class meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Morris Dailey Auditorium.

The dance is a fund-raising project, and is open to the entire student body, according to Ernie Castro, temporary president.

Sign ups for various committees such as publicity and decorations will take place today, and all freshmen are urged to be present.

Also on the agenda will be entertainment try-outs for the Frosh-Soph Mixer, according to Gene Bui, chairman. The class is allowed 15 minutes for entertainment, which may include individual as well as group acts.

KT-KKG Take Sweepstakes Trophy; 1st Place Awards to Delta Upsilon, A Phi O

Kappa Tau Fraternity and Kappa Gamma Sorority swept the field of homecoming floats, last Saturday, to take the coveted Homecoming Sweepstakes Trophy. The two groups were announced as winners during the pre-game activities at Spartan Stadium. The KT-Kappa float used the theme "Put the Tigers on Ice" and featured a giant COP tiger with a Spartan riding on his back. The most unusual feature of the float was the entire use of colored cellophane flowers in the decorations. Float chairman was Wayne Abby, Kappa Tau.

First place in the Greek division went to Delta Upsilon Fraternity. DU's theme was "Sno the Tiger" and showed two Spartans rolling a snow-ball from one end of the float to the other. Inside the snow-ball was a replica of the COP tiger.

Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity and Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority won second place in the division with the theme "Crush 'Em". The float featured a giant crushing machine through which a COP tiger was being fed by a SJS Spartan.

Third place in this division went to Sigma Chi Fraternity. The theme of the "Sigs" float was "Freeze the Tigers Out." It depicted a Spartan sitting before a blazing fire, while outside the tiger was freezing.

First place in the Independent Division went to Alpha Phi Omega for their float "Show 'Em How to Skate." It featured a Spartan skating on a revolving platform. Second place went to the San Jose State Hawaiian Club with their beautiful float, "Hawaii, Winter Wonderland." The third place trophy in the Independent division went to Newman Club for their float showing the Spartan watching over the tiger on thin ice.

Judging of the floats in the Homecoming Parade was based on a six point system. The points included: (1) adherence to the theme of homecoming, which was "Winter Wonderland," (2) originality, (3) suitability, (4) effectiveness, (5) workmanship and (6) adherence to the budget set up by the Homecoming Committee last spring quarter.

The judges, none of whom were affiliated with San Jose State College, were seated in the official reviewing stand along with other college and community dignitaries. Members of the San Jose State Homecoming Committee are Joe Vallenari, general chairman; Jan Heter, queen contest chairman; Jerry McCarthy, parade chairman; Marv Alkin, bonfire rally chairman; Ron Schmidt, publicity chairman and Miriam Waggener, secretary to the homecoming committee.

Mark E Group's Constitution Okayed

The Mark E Club, an independent organization for men, is in the process of being approved as an official recognized campus organization. Carl Christensen, secretary of the organization said Friday.

The club's constitution was approved by the Recognition of Student Organizations Committee, headed by Dean Helen Dimmick, Friday, Christensen said.

President of the club, Ro Wauer, said President Wahlquist will appoint a faculty adviser for the club, who will be present at the meeting tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

Any regularly-enrolled male student who is interested in the club and attending the meeting tomorrow night should contact Carl Christensen or Ro Wauer.

Shot Card Sale Closes

Wednesday is the last day for students to purchase cards which will entitle them to immunization against influenza according to Miss Margaret Twombly, director of student health service.

Cards may be purchased for 75 cents apiece in the Student Affairs Business Office, Room 16.

Seniors Must Take Final Exams is Absolute Ultimatum; Hours of Thought Precede President's Council Decision

Seniors got the final ultimatum Friday when President's Council decided in favor of finals for those who are being graduated. Long hours of deliberation were taken before the decision was announced.

Following is the release from the Council.

"After due deliberation, the President's Council accepted the recommendation of the committee assigned to study the scholastic implications of senior examinations."

The committee, which had representatives from the Examinations Committee, Activities Office, Faculty Council, Division Chairmen, College Life Committee, Registrar's Office, and the administration, recommended that all graduating senior students be required to take final examinations.

This recommendation came to the President's Council with the unanimous vote of the recommending committee. In accepting the recommendation, the President's Council noted that few, if any colleges or universities excuse seniors from final examinations.

The practice here has been under question and study for several years. The committee, as a whole, agreed that from an instructional point of view there is no advantage in excusing seniors from final examinations. There are several disadvantages, including:

1. Instructors teaching seniors during their final semester do not normally have prior acquaintance with them and, therefore, must rely upon the regular course examinations to determine their competence. It is particularly important to have an adequate evaluation of the work in the advanced specialized courses given in the last semester of the senior year.
2. There is a tendency on the part of students who have been excused from final examinations to be let down during the latter part of the term. The borderline students, especially, take advantage of this situation.
3. Faculty members believe that the morale of the entire class suffers when all students in any given class are not required to take final examinations.
4. There is difficulty in establishing fair grading standards for ex-

Tigers Ruin Ranking Of Unbeaten Golds

By BOB STRIEGEL

The big bad COP Tiger knocked the San Jose State Golden Raiders from the ranks of the undefeated Saturday night in Spartan Stadium by pounding out a 14-7 victory over the Spartans.

College of Pacific took advantage of two gift touchdowns to sew up the 31st renewal of the traditional rivalry, which was witnessed by a capacity crowd of 18,313.

It was fumbles and penalties which decided the outcome of the game. The first break for Pacific occurred in the second quarter when it recovered a San Jose fumble on the Spartan four yard line and turned it into a touchdown to take a 7-0 lead at half-time.

But it was a penalty in the fourth quarter which really hurt the Spartans after they tied the battle up 7-7 in the third period. With less than seven minutes remaining, the Spartans were penalized 15 yards for defensive holding and instead of taking over on downs on their own six, Pacific took over with a first down on the SJS one. From here the Tigers went over for the winning score.

Three Fraternities Placed on Probation For Fall Semester

Delta Upsilon, Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Alpha Tau Omega were placed on probation Thursday by the Inter-fraternity court for the remainder of the fall semester, according to Dean Robert S. Martin, IFC adviser.

The IFC court held its first meeting of the year Thursday afternoon. It was revealed that ATO members set off a small explosion which caused a large explosion at approximately 11 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19th. Between 1:30 and 2:30 a.m., DU and SAE members played sound effect records at high volume. These incidents resulted in a large number of complaints being lodged with the police department and the college.

The IFC court considered the cases at its meeting and decided that incidents of this type generate considerable ill feeling in the community towards the college and the fraternity system. Putting the three fraternities on probation is an attempt to bring incidents of this type under control and prevent a recurrence in the future, Dean Martin said.

In addition to putting the three fraternities on probation, the court recommended that each fraternity take action against those individual members who were responsible for the incidents.

Three fraternity members were taken into custody by police on the night the disorder took place. The members were not arrested and charged with an offense but they were questioned by the police.

'Players' Sign-Ups

Any student interested in joining San Jose Players may pick up applications today in the Speech and Drama office, SD100, according to Bill Bruch, president.

Applications must be returned to the same office by 4 p.m., November 4. Any student now in attendance at SJS is eligible, and encouraged to apply, Bruch said.

EDITORIAL

This Is a Rally?

It was a great weekend—while it lasted. All that's left now is the mess—and perhaps a sort of sad feeling about the spirit displayed.

What about the spirit at the parade and the game, you say? Great. But we ask, what about the "big" bonfire rally Friday night?

The fire itself was fine, definitely showing the hard work put in by some persons. The yell leaders did their darndest to get some noise out of the few people standing around. But did anyone of you who went notice the police cars around?

We were just a little surprised that a school of 9000 needed the extra support of the San Jose Auxiliary Police to keep "dissenting elements" out of the way. Granted that the official cars might discourage any ideas anyone has of prematurely beginning the rally. But their influence should be in addition to that of a large number of SJS supporters who would be willing to guard the bonfire with their physical presences.

We can only congratulate those individuals who did give their time to build and guard the bonfire. But only some 20 persons were present at any one time during the day—often fewer than that.

Other large schools seem to stimulate a real interest in such activities, to make it an honor, besides a lot of fun, to hold the fort against marauding bands from other schools. At SJS, the whole thing seems to be nothing but a duty—something that should be done because there's a big game the next night.

Since such a small percentage of students is interested in guarding the bonfire, since so few people are even interested in going to the event, then it is only a waste of time and effort and should be eliminated in the future.

Band Member Protests

Dear Thrust and Parry:

It was noted a few days ago that some students on campus frown on the enthusiasm shown by various members of our band at football games. In short, they tried to belittle the band by inferring, in an article in the Spartan Daily, that the sounds of drums and trombones during kickoffs was strictly amateurish and of high school level.

Without doubt, these noises are definitely not a sign of maturity but how many aspects of a rooting section are? Certainly not the rumbling roar of stamping feet that is brought on by our ever vigorous cheer leaders, nor the yells or jeers that accompany every important play, and often precede them.

But what of this? Just because we graduate from high school we don't quit getting enthusiastic or quit cheering at football games. Also, who's to say that most of these practices weren't handed down to our high schools instead of being brought in as second class matter?

So, as a member of the band, let me offer to the author of the previous article the junior rooting section the next time he or she comes to a football game. Immaturity will speak for itself down there when the kids get a little excited and the band will be pleased to continue serving as the principal unit in our "college level" cheering section.

Can't Grasp Reasoning

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I fail to grasp the reasoning presented by the administration for requiring graduating seniors to take final exams. One reason advanced is "the decreased number of test periods under the semester system." It would appear that since the semester is some 50 per cent longer than a quarter, the opportunity for the instructor to evaluate each of his students is considerably better than in the past and certainly more mid-terms may be scheduled without overloading.

I presume this "decreased number of test periods" refers to the fact that students will now be faced with only eight sets of finals over four years rather than 12. So are we to believe that there is something inherently good for the mind in a week of nothing but final exams?

Regarding the "unfavorable attitude of many seniors" just before graduation, a policy of mid-terms spread over the whole semester would seem to alleviate this problem to a large extent. At any rate, if graduating seniors refuse to learn anything without the threat of an examination to prod them, then they have missed the point of a college education and the place for reform should begin with the incoming freshmen, not graduating seniors.

The administration should realize that not all the value of higher education comes directly from the classroom and, hence, should not penalize the grade average of graduating seniors by requiring them to take finals when their minds are naturally on a variety of other, but equally worthwhile, activities.

'Little Pearls of Wisdom'

Dear Thrust and Parry:

I have been keeping up with your little pearls of wisdom and my only gripe is the moronic thing you call the "Wither." Even the "Keyhole," the most yellow sheet of journalism to date, steers clear of that kind of drivel. Nothing personal intended but shall we get to the business of the day?

We are getting an addition to the Library. O.K. that's fine. Also one to the Men's Gym. Peachy. There's a cafeteria in the offing. I've heard, also. Now my Peers of the Press, where in the grab bag of tricks are the dormitories that are needed so badly? Maybe if you print this someone else will donate the answer.

I lived in a two-roomer this summer for $45 that has raised to $50 for the fall term. Is this example enough as to what the well-endowed, comfortable townspeople are doing to take advantage of the student who still has to make his start in life? What's the matter? Won't these people who are making a mint with rents sell any lots to the school to build dorms? A rent-starved student,

Daily Finally Made It!

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In reading the Daily's editorial concerning the snafu over the eligibility of the election candidates, I was surprised that the Daily actually could recognize a mistake.

During the first week of school, when an "unnamed spectator" challenged the Student Council's right to meet during the first week of the semester, the Daily reported that a "humorous note" had been injected into the council meeting. When the adviser of the council stated that the week of Sept. 19-23 was not the first week of the school year, and thus the council could hold a regular meeting, the Daily accepted this at face value and didn't even bother to check with the Registrar's Office.

Again on Oct. 12 the Daily failed to report to the student body that council finally saw the error of its way and threw out the first meeting that had been held Sept. 21.

Another point that the Spartan Daily missed was the fact the council had "thought" it had appointed a chief justice during the third regular business meeting but because the "first" (unconstitutional) meeting had to be thrown out, the chief justice had not assumed office.

The chief justice must be appointed during the third regular meeting of the Student Council. The council assumed it had appointed the chief justice Oct. 5.

At this point a question arises. What did the "unofficial" chief justice do during that week in the way of official duties? Answer—He swore in the newly-elected justices before he had been legally appointed to the office of chief justice of the student court. Have these new justices been officially sworn in as of this date? If not, what effect does that have upon the legality of the election being held this week?

All of the above points were pointed out to the Daily and not a written word has come forth except this belated editorial.

Pushrod Pushers Poets

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In regard to the article, "Hot Rod 'Play' Kills Two Teenage Boys," we have this comment:

The newsmen who slam the hot rod
Use the intelligence gifted a dirt clod;
Rather they should stick to the facts
Instead of writing like so many quacks.

By hot rod they tell the story
Of a fool
Who drives this car as a deadly tool;
But in truth this is quite contrary
And you reporters should use a dictionary.

A hot-rodder is a man of pride
Who builds a car not for death's ride;
But rather a man who builds for knowledge
Just as the student who goes to college.

So if you please lay off the stab
For you hurt the good and not the bad;
'Cause a hot-rodder puts too much in his crate
To play a game where the odds are so great.

Way to Dates Unlimited

Dear Thrust and Parry:

How to improve "Dates Unlimited."

This new service called "Dates Unlimited" appears to be misleading in the services offered. I don't wish to ridicule this plan for promoting better attendance at social and college functions, but only to suggest some ways of making this service more acceptable to everyone concerned.

The girls are given little choice in selecting their dates and are virtually on the auction block. The men make their choices on the basis of girls who photographs appeal to them. Now, what about the girls who are not photogenic? They might very well spend their dollar in vain. These poor girls could be by-passed indefinitely yet be as attractive as the girls who are photogenic.

These girls, in a large number of cases, might well prove to be as good or better companions than their photogenic sisters. It is here that a personal introduction should be made. As the service now stands, the men need only look at the female "rogues gallery" to make their selections.

All of us, I am sure, have talked to persons we know intimately and have found these persons do not sound on the telephone as they do in person. The girl may sound terrible on the telephone while in person she may have a pleasant voice. The telephone should be used by "Dates Unlimited" only as a means of contact to bring interested parties together. It should then be the job of "Dates Unlimited" to make the formal introduction.

Men should be put on the same basis as women in this service. They should answer the same questionnaires, give a description of their personal appearance, and send in a photograph as well as the women. The women should have a rogues gallery to choose from, too.

Since "Dates Unlimited" can bring people together on common levels, two other points should be required. Dating quite often leads to matrimony so that previous social life and religious preference should be considered when making introductions. Some of these dates may last a lifetime!

Take away the insult of the simulated auction block and give our college women the same freedom of choice as the men. Give the girls a break for their chance to choose. If these suggestions were incorporated in this service, I feel sure there would be wider interest in it, and it would lead to "Dates Unlimited."

STRIKE UP THE BAND!

Learning the words of all the latest popular songs—as anyone must who wants to amount to anything on campus—becomes more and more difficult. Take last night. I had the radio on for no more than five minutes, and in that time heard two brand spanking new songs—a jump tune called Rock With Me, Hymie and a hillbilly ballad called They're Hanging Ralph T. Sigafous at Cock-crow.

And that's the way it goes. New tunes are absolutely flooding the market. No wonder you're having trouble memorizing all the lyrics.

But you don't have to be dull about it. I mean, when a song is playing and you don't know the lyrics, don't just stand there singing dum, dum, de, dum or la, la, la or room room. That is very dull. Pick more interesting syllables—like slimp gans or kretch dinkle or math roke.

Take, for instance, That Old Black Magic. Let's say you forgot some of the lyrics. Try singing this:

That old kretch dinkle
Has me in its math,
That old kretch dinkle,
That I slimp so gans,
Those icy dinkles
Running down my slimp,
That old kretch dinkle
When your roke meets mine . . . etc.

See? Interesting? What did I tell you?

But knowing the lyrics—or interesting substitutes—is not nearly enough. To really rate on campus, you must also be acquainted with odd and interesting facts about the composers. For example:

1. Irving Berlin's name spelled backwards is Givri Nireb.
2. Rodgers and Hammerstein can only write music while whitewashing a fence.
3. Ludwig von Beethoven's hobby was collecting cold sores.
4. One of our greatest songs was written because the wife of an impecunious composer came home one afternoon with a canteloupe and a dog named Lassie. "Why did you bring home a canteloupe and a dog named Lassie?" said the composer to his wife. "For the baby," she replied. The composer grew angry. "Here we are flat broke," he cried, "and you come home with a melon for the baby, a collie for the baby!" Suddenly, struck by an inspiration, he rushed to the piano and wrote Melancholy Baby.

5. Cole Porter writes all his songs with a popsicle stick on the side of a horse.

6. Hoagy Carmichael's hobby is spelling Irving Berlin's name backwards.

And what does the true music lover smoke? Why, Philip Morris, of course! Why? Because Philip Morris is a song of a cigarette—a veritable symphony, a melody serene, a tone poem, a cantata, a lied, a chansonette, a fugue of one gentle puff upon another, allegro yet dolce, lively, mild, harmonious.

That's why.

In the first half, the Spartans stopped the Bengals on the three yard line on the last play of the first period, and again on the one yard line in the second quarter. At the start of the fourth period they put up another stand, halting the Tiger attack on the two yard line.

After being bogged down in the

The Spartans will have to lick their wounds this week and prepare to meet the Stanford Indians in Palo Alto Saturday.

CLIVE BULLION

appeared to have lost their opportunity. But, on the next play, Teresa ducked away from a swarm of onrushing Tigers and threw a long pass to end Mel Powell, who made an unbelievable catch between two COP defenders on the three yard line and stepped over for the score.

The Tigers first scoring drive began on the San Jose 42. From here, highlighted by two passes from Jim Reynosa to A. D. Williams, the Bengals picked up a percentage of the time that they had control of the ball.

Standouts for San Jose were halfback Clive Bullion, making his first start for the Spartans this year, and amazing Tony Teresa, whose crafty ball handling and running has been sharp in every game so far this season.

JIM HUGHES

Bullion, 20-year-old junior from Los Gatos, and a teammate of Teresa at Hartnell J.C., appeared to reach his stride Saturday night.

Besides his great punt return, he romped 42 yards on a pass play in the first half in one of the most exciting plays of the game. He also played a heads-up defensive game.

But then came the fumble by Teresa and end John Thomas recovered for COP on the San Jose four. The Spartans held, however, until the third down when halfback Ken Swearingen went over right guard for the tally.

Pacific's last touchdown was scored by Reynosa on a sneak from the one yard line after the holding penalty set up the opportunity.

Throughout the entire battle, the Spartans had a hard time trying to get running room through the Bengal forward wall. The Raiders were pinned down deep in their own territory a big percentage of the time that they had control of the ball.

Why do more college men and women smoke than any other filter cigarette?

Because only Viceroy gives you 20,000 filter traps in every filter tip, made from a pure natural substance — cellulose — found in delicious fruits and other edibles!

1. Yes, only Viceroy has this filter composed of 20,000 tiny filter traps. You cannot obtain the same filtering action in any other cigarette.
2. The Viceroy filter wasn't just whipped up and rushed to market to meet the new and skyrocketing demand for filtered cigarettes. Viceroy pioneered. Started research more than 20 years ago to create the pure and perfect filter.
3. Smokers en masse report that filtered Viceroy's have a finer flavor even than cigarettes without filters. Rich, satisfying, yet pleasantly mild.
4. Viceroy draws so easily that you wouldn't know, without looking, that it even had a filter tip... and Viceroy's cost only a penny or two more than cigarettes without filters!

That's why more college men and women smoke VICEROYS than any other filter cigarette... that's why VICEROY is the largest-selling filter cigarette in the world!

San Jose State Opens New Counseling Center

San Jose State has a new Counseling Center. Its services are available to all members of the faculty and student body, according to Dr. George A. Muench, director of the center.

In explaining the new Center's purpose, Dr. Muench stated that, "all people suffer from problems of an emotional nature at some time or another. Most of the time we are able to deal effectively with these problems by ourselves or with the help of other family members or friends. However," he said, "sometimes these emotional problems seem temporarily or permanently insoluble with the means we have to deal with them. It is at these times when we may feel a need to seek professional help. The new Counseling Center has been established here at the college to provide professional psychological services to students who want help with with troublesome emotional problems," he pointed out.

COUNSELING PRIVATE

The Center is under the auspices of the Psychology Department. It is an outgrowth of the counseling service once offered by the personnel office, Dr. Muench said. "It has been set-up in a separate building to guarantee the confidentiality of the student-counselor relationship," he explained.

Dr. Muench said that he and his assistants, Dr. Harry N. Fitch, Dr. Jay T. Rusmore, Dr. Bruce C. Ogilvie and Dr. Lyle D. Edminson, expect more people to come in than they can handle.

Although no official announcement has been made previously to the student body concerning the opening of the Counseling Center, several students came to the Center requesting help during the first week of operation, he said.

PROBLEMS VARY

"The type of problems students bring to the Center range from relatively simple and temporary problems, such as inability to study and concentrate due to worry over dates, to severe and deep seated problems, such as intense feelings of inadequacy and inferiority which prohibit them from participating in any phase of college life," Dr. Muench stated.

A common problem brought to the counselors, according to Dr. Muench, is that of vocational difficulties. Intense help along with various vocational tests are offered to students with this problem.

"The professional staff is available to help students with any problem of a personal or emotional nature, and all material discussed is held strictly confidential," Dr. Muench emphasized.

Mammoth Bonfire Touched Off at Rally; Excited Crowd Looks on at Victory Blaze

Right on schedule a match was touched to the San Jose State College victory bonfire for the first time in three years. Almost 1000 onlookers watched the mammoth blaze, according to Jim Curnutt, Rally Committee publicity chairman.

Yell leaders led the excited crowd in several yells as the flames of fire licked high into the sky.

Joe Vallenari, chairman of the Homecoming Committee, introduced Queen Barbara Dale and presented her with a huge homecoming queen's trophy in the form of a giant cup.

The rally was held on a 35 foot truck bed by the site of the fire in the Spartan Stadium parking lot. The pep band was on hand to add to already high spirits.

Inter-fraternity Council and Alpha Phi Omega members built and guarded the bonfire the day of the rally to prevent over-zealous rivals from lighting the fire. Two policemen and a radio car were at the bonfire site all day long, according to Marv Alkin, Homecoming Committee rally chairman.

Byron Bollinger of the Building and Grounds Department helped IFC and A Phi O guard the fire by wiring off the area around the fire site.
